

The Solihull & Warwickshire Guardian
Thursday 19 January 2006

● Stella O'Doherty and Nicky Lucas from Your Wish is my Command

Wishful thinking sees company take off

EVER wished you had an extra pair of hands? Well until surgery becomes available, a new company is launching in the Midlands which could make all your dreams come true.

'Your Wish is my Command' is a new venture from local business women Nicky Lucas and Stella O'Doherty, who want to lend a helping hand to those trying to juggle work and family lives, and keep dropping the balls.

The pair, from Bourneville and Bentley Heath, established the company in July after seeing the industry grow in the London area.

They offer personal assistance in all sorts of areas, from picking up the kids at school if you can't make it, to organising your wedding.

In fact the company recently took on their greatest challenge to date, organising Stella's very own wedding in just 14 weeks.

Nicky said: "We decided to create 'Your Wish is My Command' to take some of the pressure off people of all ages and we're finding it's extremely popular.

"Today's lifestyle is so hectic and people are so stressed, that sometimes doing everything just isn't possible."

Instead Stella and Nicky send out their team of happy helpers across Warwickshire and the West Midlands to do your shopping, feed your pets or even offer their services to businesses as an incentive for their top employees.

If you would like to grant someone's wish can find the full range of services available at www.your-wishismycommand.co.uk